The flower beds should be well filled with delicate foliage and rich flowers and graceful vines.—The white, and yellow roses should have their places in the inclosure, and the sweet briar and the climbing rose, upon trellises. The dahlia must not be forgotten, nor should it be forgotten that it flourishes best partially shaded, and in moist situations. Ad course and strangling plants, should be rejected from the flower bed as soon as they make their appearance. The high mallows, and the double sun flower a few double poppies, and such like, may be kept in niches, and sly corners, and near the outbuildings.

We throw out these hints, not with any expectation of helping those acquainted with the art of gardening, but for beginners in the business, and there are many such in our city.

Trade between Bangor and Portland.

The Railway movement in Portland is already beginning to exert an important influence upon the business of Bangor, and has given a new impulse to the trade between Bangor and Portland. A large contract for lumber for the sleepers for the Rail Road, has been taken by Messrs Strickland & Winslow. The structure of the Montreal Rail Road, we learn, is to be upon the plan of the continuous bearing, with white pine sills, 7 by 11 inches, requiring about 80,000 feet of timber per mile.

In addition to this, and the ordinary purchases of lumber for Portland market, extensive purchases of lumber have been made for the Portland Iron Company, who are erecting extensive shops. We are told, too, that "Bangor State" is to be used in coveting.

Another gratifying item of intelligence we are now able to give, which is highly creditable to the mechanical taste, and skill, of our city.

We learn that Messrs Hinckley & Egery have contracted for a stationary Steam Engine of 25 horse power, for the Portland Company, to be employed in driving the works of their large Machine shop.

Some things can be done in Maine as well as elsewhere, and the confidence in our mechanics, shown by our Portland friends, will not be lost, or misplaced.

We are also assured that there is every reason to believe that Katahdin Iron will be suitable for puddling, and that the Railways of Maine may soon be supplied with all their iron and equipments from the mines and workshops of our own State.

☞ Modern Democracy which vetoes harbor bills, internal improvements, sells out the snag boats formerly built to prevent the loss of life and property on our western waters, and looks with horror on all lax construction of the Constitution, now begins to talk of building a ship canal across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, when it shall have been acquired from conquered Mexico. This is what we may call a strict construction of the Constitution, on a par with Mr. Polk's reading of the clause which places the war making power solely in the custody of Congress.

☞ Following, at best, is a bad business, both for the borrower and the lender. It should be a maxim with every one never to borrow when he can buy. We have known many unpleasant outbreaks in neighborhoods, simply in consequence of the prevalence of this pernicious engendering practice, and not a few expensive lawsuits which were clearly traceable to the same evil source.

☞ We would call the attention of capitalists, lumber merchants, millmen and our readers generally to the advertisement to be found in our columns headed, "To Lumber Merchants." The bargain offered them is such as is rarely to be met with and therefore the more worthy attention.

The Secretary of War is endeavoring to arrest the abuse from which the Indians have so severely suffered, and has issued regulations of a stringent character, prohibiting, according to law, the introduction of intoxicating liquors among the Indian tribes. We hope he may be successful in his philanthropic effort.

☞ Mr. Williams, will open his Bathing House on Saturday evening, and next week it will be opened every day and so continue for the season.—On Tuesdays and Fridays, it will be open exclusively for the ladies, with suitable attendants. The accommodations are ample and those who crave the luxury of a warm bath will be sure to avail themselves of the opportunity, furnished them for the season.

☞ The weather is very tempting—spring-like and beautiful. We should like a week or two for out door work, but as we must deal a good part of the time at the writing desk, we are compelled to make long days and to divide labor.

☞ The Thomaston Gazette states that Capt. Ingraham's Sch. Otto, of Thomaston, from Boston, on the 27th inst., Wood Isle bearing NNW 20 miles distant, fell in with sch. Abner, of Kennebunk, in a sinking condition, and took from her the crew, two individuals named Wormwood and Webber.

☞ Thanks to Col. Maxwell, of the Rail Road, and the officers of the Governor, for papers received yesterday, in advance of the mail.

☞ In Massachusetts the prospect of a great crop of fruit, not only of the apple but of the pear, &c., is said to be very fine.

☞ The ice to New York from Boston, by the Norwich as well as the Stonington route, is reduced to four dollars.

England, Ireland, and America.

The London Times, in an article on the famine in Ireland, has the following remarks in reference to the contributions in America. The half was not then known; nevertheless, the Times says:

The tribute we are most bound to acknowledge is the magnificent public subscription made in the United States. The greater part of this, we are given to understand, is contributed by Irishmen, but, as a whole, we rejoice to see in it one more pledge of that mutual respect and affection which, in spite of many trials and hindrances now binds the two countries. The British empire and the Union are from one common stock. Their language, their interests, their literature, and to a great extent, their customs, their laws, and religion are the same. There are no two nations in the world so similar, while they are politically distinct. Happily they are now discovering the interest they severally possess in one another's peace and prosperity. We will confess to a passing sensation of wounded pride when we hear of our own fellow subjects becoming objects of republican benevolence, and our social superiors being exposed in the cities of New England. But if we are unable to rescue Ireland from the grasp of famine, as confessedly we are, it does not become us to resent the assistance of a generous kinsman and friend. Whatever is to blame, most true it is that Ireland does not prosper in our hands. We must, therefore, submit to be commiserated and helped in our task.

It is estimated that two millions of people will have perished by the famine and consequent pestilence within a twelvemonth.

Mr Dromgoole, of Virginia, whose death immediately followed his re-election to the seat which he has so long held in the National House of Representatives, was an able and influential man—but a slave to the destroying vice of intemperance. If he had always been true to himself, he would have been a distinguished ornament to his State and his country.

From Monterey.

New York, May 5, 2½ o'clock, P. M.

Official accounts have been received at Monterey of the capture of Chihuahua, by Col Doniphan.

Another Battle had taken place at Sacramento, 12 miles from Chihuahua. The Missourians met the enemy and dispersed them, killing and wounding several hundred, and capturing ten pieces of artillery. The American loss was said to be only four.

Pirates.

The schr Thomas Hooper reports having been chased by a piratical brig, near the Bahamas, on the 18th of March.

Markets.

There is more demand for flour to-day.—Genessee is selling at $7,25 a 7,31¼.

Yellow corn 95 cents per bushel.

The cotton market is steady.

In provisions there is no change.

The stock market is buoyant to-day. Harlem 52; Norwich and worcester 49¾; Treasury Notes 4¾ premium; Long Island 29¼ per cent.

Arrived.

Barque James Hall, from Havana; brigs Wm. Pope, from Guayama; Houlton, from Cardenas.

Half past 3 o'clock.

Another account of the battle at Chihuahua has been received via Santa Fe and St. Louis, which states the Mexican force to have been over 4000, of whom 300 were killed and a great number wounded; and about 40 were taken prisoners, among them one Colonel.

American loss—Col Owens, of Indiana, killed and 8 wounded, one mortally.

Col. Doniphan captured a large quantity of munition and provisions and 500 dollars in specie.

There has been a fire at St. Louis, which destroyed a great number of buildings. Loss 50,000 dollars.

Trial of Bragdon.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Charles R. Bragdon, indicted at Portland for the murder of Col Henley. The verdict was unexpected, as public opinion had already found him guilty. He was discharged and endeavored to make his escape out of town, but was arrested by a constable on a charge of unlawful connection with the woman who had passed for his wife.

The Portland Argus states that on examination it was proved that the woman's husband was divorced from her in the year 1841; and there was no proof that she had a lawful husband in 1843. Consequently the complaint was not sustained, and Bragdon was discharged.

☞ A Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier makes the following startling announcement: "A gentleman here, long resident in Mexico and intimately acquainted with its affairs, remarks that he will not be surprised to hear next that Farias is in communication with Gen Scott, and acting in concert with him."

☞ The Portland Argus states that the store of E T Cushman, Esq., of Oxford, Postmaster, was burnt on the night of Saturday last, and all the contents destroyed, save the Postmaster's desk, with a few blanks and records therein. Mr. C. was partly insured.

☞ Nearly 80,000 passengers have been carried over the Albany and Troy Road since its commencement, without the slightest injury to any of the passengers.

☞ The Weather, on Saturday, was the cold est we remember to have experienced for many years, in this vicinity, at this period of the season. Warm, winter clothing was nothing else than comfortable the whole day, in and out

[Mobile Adv. 26th ult.

☞ On Friday or Saturday night last, says the Times, between twenty and twenty five negroes, belonging to different plantations in Kenton County, Kentucky, across the river, left for parts unknown, via the State of Ohio. We learn that the aggregate amount of reward offered for their apprehension, is over four thousand dollars.—[Cincinnati Atlas.

☞ The editor of the Bangor Democrat, has backed out from his slur of 'Leonidas' the gifted correspondent of this paper, and now asks pardon of all for ever having uttered such unkind words. Here is the occasion and the manner of his doing it:

Rigmarole and Twattle

The writings of one 'Leonidas,' who figures largely in several of the newspapers, in this State.—Bangor Democrat.

We hardly know which we are most astonished at—the hardihood, or the utter lack of taste, of an editor, who vents such opinions as the above. It cannot be, however, that our friend Haynes is serious—he must know that 'Leonidas' is in the very front rank of brilliant and effective writers. Why, man, his sarcasm is perfectly withering, and we warn you to beware how you provoke his terrible literary ire. The stinging satire of Junius is no touch to it—but the editor of the Democrat is joking, he is!

[Yankee Blade.

This is not the first, or second, or third time we have been taken to task for those three unlucky lines. The three hundred Spartans are avenging the indignity offered to their leader. Spare us, good friends—do not annihilate us, good enemies—receive our humble apology, all. We confess to hardihood, bad taste, envy, love of fun, ignorance, malice, any thing and every thing, so let us off. More especially we confess to the sin of ignorance. How could we know that this Leonidas was like the old fellow—and who that did not know his true name might not have supposed him to be a modern bastard. We had read only a small part of his writings, and who is ignorant that authors of the greatest genius and highest accomplishments write very unequally? If we find 'rigmarole' in Herodotus and 'twattle' in Shakspeare, why may not Leonidas sometimes descend to their level?

But had we known as much as others, had we 'discriminated' like our brethren of the pen and scissors, we might have found Homeric and Addisonian beauties where we discovered defects. We appeal to the candor of our censors, is it probable, nay is it possible that we could have audaciously penned those three lines if we had been conscious that the subject of our philippic was the distinguished author and 'energetic' gentleman who recently delivered the ingenious, erudite, classic and brilliant oration before the Antiquarian Society of Bangor! But how could we know? We were not at that literary banquet, and being one of the uninitiated we were not permitted to witness subsequently the esoteric rites, performed at the feast. Consider these things, ye critics, and spare us on our promise of amendment. We pray that the Blade which has unmercifully cut into our flesh, may pass us in future. We so dislike to be made a spectacle for the gaping crowd in Boston.

What the Voice said.

MADDENED by Earth's wrong and evil,
I cried in sudden ire,
"From thy right hand, clothed with thunder,
Shake the bolted fire!

"Love is lost, and Faith is dying;
With the brute the man is sold;
And the dropping blood of labor
Hardens into gold.

"Here the dying wail of Famine,
There the battle's groan of pain;
And, in silence, smooth-faced Mammon
Reaping men like grain.

"'Where is God, that we should fear him?'
Thus the earth-born titans say;
'God is thou art living, hear us!'
Thus the weak ones pray.

"Thou, the patient Heaven upbraiding,
Spake a solemn Voice within;
'Weary of our Lord's forbearance,
Art thou free from sin?

"Fearless brow to Him uplifting,
Can st thou for His thunders call,
Knowing that to Guilt's attraction
Evermore they fall?

"Knowest thou not all germs of Evil
In thy heart await their time?
Not thyself, but God's restraining,
Stays their growth of crime.

"Could'st thou boast, oh, child of weakness
Of the sons of wrong and strife,
Were their strongest temptations planted
In thy path of life?

"Thou hast seen two streamlets gushing
From one fountain, clear and free,
But by widely varying channels
Seek ing for the sea.

"Glideth one through greenest valleys,
Kiss ng them with lips still sweet;
One, mad-roaring down its mountains,
Stagnates at their feet.

"Is it choice whereby the Parsee
Kneels before his mother's fire?
In his black tent did the Tartar
Choose his wandering sire?

"He alone, whose hand is bounding
Human power and human will,
Looking through each soul's surrounding,
Knows its good or ill.

"For thyself while wrong and sorrow
Make to thee their strongest appeal,
Coward wert thou not to utter
What the heart must feel.

"Earnest words must needs be spoken
When the warm heart bleeds or burns
With the scorn of wrong, or pity
For the wronged, by turns.

"But, on all thy natures weakness,
Hidden faults and follies known,
Be thou, in rebuking evil
Conscious of thine own.

"Not the less shall stern-eyed Duty
To thy lips her trumpet set,
But with harsher blasts shall mingle
Wailings of regret."

'Cease not, Voice of holy speaking,
Teacher sent of God, be near,
Whispering through the day's cool silence,
Let my spirit hear!

So, when thoughts of evil doers
Waken scorn, or hatred move,
Shall a mournful fellow-feeling
Temper all with love.

Kelley & Co's Sarsnparilla!

"Kennebunk, Maine, Apr 13, 1847.

Messrs Jacob H. Kelley & Co.

Gentlemen,—I feel it my duty to make known, as far as lies in my power, the Vastly Superior Virtues of your Invaluable Preparation of Sarsaparilla; and so, in this public manner, bear testimony to its astonishing effects upon a member of my family.

My son, Charles C. Stevens, was, for more than four years most alarmingly afflicted with Scrofula; and his life was still more desperate in consequence of a Mercurial Disease, which had fastened upon him. Physicians did him not the slightest good, and every person who saw him thought he must die. But fortunately he commenced using Kelley & Co.'s Sarsaparilla, and to my utter surprise, he was able, in four weeks time, to walk about, before which he had not taken a single step for more than eight months. When he commenced using your Sarsaparilla, his legs and arms were literally covered with sores, and several pieces of the bone of the leg were taken out. He is now enjoying good health,—and I believe that your excellent medicine has effected this Wonderful Cure, for he was continually growing worse all the time he was using the other preparations of Sarsaparilla. Respectfully yours,

PHINEAS STEVENS."

"Kennebunk, April 2, 1847.—What my father has above stated is strictly true. I am now well—cured by Kelley & Co's Sarsaparilla. CHARLES C. STEVENS."

TO LUMBER MERCHANTS
A DESIRABLE BARGAIN, IN CANADA.
ONE of the most extensive Saw-Mill Establishments in Canada, with twenty thousand acres of timber lands attached, is offered for sale, and upon terms that cannot fail to meet the views of sagacious judges, who may visit the Mills and examine into entering into a large and lucrative business.
The main property consists of Two substantial Buildings, containing four English Mills, and four Gangs, with ten Circular Saws, a new Planing Mill and a Grist Mill with four run of stones, as well as ten or twelve valuable Buildings, and twenty or thirty small Houses for workmen. These improvements are surrounded by a cleared Farm of 500 acres, yielding large supplies of Hay, Grain, and Potatoes, necessary for carrying on the business.
The situation of this property is in the Township of Hunterstown, on River Dulomp, which empties into the West side of the Lake St. Peters seventy miles below Montreal, and fifteen miles from the Mills, whence the Lumber is carted, and can be shipped through a direct communication to New York by crossing Lake St. Peters into the Richelieu River (being the outlet of Lake Champlain) at Sorel, thence via St. Johns through the Lake and the Northern Canal to Troy,—the expense of which is ascertained to be $54 to $6 per thousand feet for Boards, and from $74 to $8 per hundred pieces for Plank, including duties.
The merits of this Establishment, as to its superior advantages, is left to American Operatives, after stating that the Mills are all new, in perfect working order, and capable of cutting out ten million feet of Lumber per annum, with almost inexhaustible supplies of Pine Timber, and at a price, for many years to come, not exceeding 75 cents per standard log of 22 inches delivered at the Mills, the present prices being only 50 cents, and second quality half price. Sawyers are paid only 50 cents per day, boarding themselves—other labor in proportion.
The present proprietor being about to leave the country for Europe, proposes selling the above property in time for the purchasers to manufacture the large stock of logs on hand for the American market. And as an important inducement to dealers in Lumber, the whole of the movable property will be sold at a price far below the estimated value, consisting in part of about 70 Canadian Horses and Oxen, with all the Lumbering and Farming Apparatus together with about 60,000 pieces of seasoned Plank and Boards on hand, and over 30 000 fresh Pine Logs at the Mills.
The exclusive advantages of the above location, (there being no other available privilege on the river) with the superior Water Power and the inexhaustible supplies of Pine and other Timber, with the advantages of two or three markets, renders the whole property an object to lumbermen seldom met with.
The best time for examining the property, will be the last of May, or the 1st of June next. In the meantime, any information respecting the place, may be had of the subscriber, at MONTREAL, OTTAWA HOTEL, St. James Street.

THE VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM.
FOR Coughs, Colds, Consumptions, Chronic Pulmonary, Asthma Spitting of Blood Hooping Cough, Bronchitis, and Pulmonary Affections and Diseases of the Lungs Fever and Ague
The Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam has now been extensively used for the past twenty years, and probably with greater success than any other remedy known.
Physicians write us that "they can with confidence recommend it to the public as a safe and very efficacious remedy."
A trial is all we ask for some test, past here in Bangor we feel confident the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam will not disappoint the reasonable expectations of those who use it.
A few testimonials from the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam [illegible] Pulmonary Affections [illegible] Pulmonary Balsam [illegible] Pulmonary Balsam, "Hunter's Pulmonary Balsam" &c—Beware of all others. Inquire for the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM, in the 25 cent size, and if not [illegible] Boston and see if it has the wrapper [illegible] Wa[illegible]'s Cough Balsam,
